Bill Harris Joins dotFX Board

Former CEO of Intuit and PayPal joins dotFX Board of Directors

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF. – MAY 5, 2008 – Bill Harris joins the dotFX, Inc. Board of Directors. “The future of software combines the desktop’s level of function with the Web’s ease of access. dotFX provides a secure and transparent runtime layer that adds value to both existing and new desktop and Web applications. The end result is secure, click-to-run, always-current applications accessible via browser links or desktop icons. Based on years of research and development, dotFX brings major advancements in the areas of software security and versioning. I am quite excited to join dotFX,” said Bill Harris.

“We are extremely pleased to welcome Bill Harris to our board of directors,” said Pete Hartigan, President of dotFX. “He has had an extraordinary career marked by innovation and entrepreneurial achievement in the software, Internet, and security industries. We have worked with Bill before and look forward to working with him closely again with dotFX.”
